PROCLAMATION.

NOTICE

IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT CHANCELLOR J. Browning, Commissioner for the I. P. R., has this, the 26th day of July, 1889, issued a proclamation warning all persons from purchasing lots from Samuel Greer in Lot 526, Group One. Now, may it please Your Lordship, I have never offered for sale any lots in said Lot 526, for that would be deception on the public, as the highest legal authority in British Columbia pronounced the title to that lot straw—not one cent as consideration having been given. Now, if Your Lordship will subpœna my wife and recover from her deep studies of Blackstone and the laws of estoppel, you will be able to see that the four Judges who tried your case out of Court last April were fully able to comprehend the difference between 526 and Pre-emption Record 1033, this being the REGISTERED NUMBER of my land on English Bay. Come down and see us! I have a few corner lots (with a smattering of coal) yet left. I mean to sell, and the public will persist in buying them, notwithstanding Your Lordship's decision. Things will move just the same at English Bay.

All parties are hereby warned that Agnes and Smith have no title to Lot 526 till confirmed by the Legislature, and all sales will be void.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Hon. Mr. Beaven Explains Past Legislation on Educational Endowments.

The Public Conduct of an M. P. Criticised—The Foresters and the Hospital.

A PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The question has been asked whether there is anything on the statute books leading to the formation of a university. In reply I would point out, that by an amendment made by the Walkem government to the Land Act in 1879, a definite system under which all crown lands were to be surveyed was established. Under that system the land was to be surveyed into quadrilateral townships containing thirty-six sections of one mile square in each, equal to 640 acres. The sections were to be numbered from one to thirty-six; and sections 16 and 27 in each township surveyed subsequent to 20th April, 1879, were set aside by the statute as an endowment for the purposes of education, and were withdrawn from the right of pre-emption or purchase.

In 1884 the Smythe government, when amending and consolidating the land laws, changed the clause which made the system definite by inserting the words "where such a system is practicable," but re-enacted the clauses setting aside sections 16 and 27 as an educational endowment. This is how the law stands to-day in that respect.

The system of survey that was established in 1879 is to all intents and purposes similar to that adopted by the United States government, and by the Dominion government in the province of Manitoba and in the territories of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and unless I am misinformed, in the railway belt in this province. A large acreage of land was also surveyed under practically the same system by the Colonial governments prior to confederation, and under identically the same plan by the De Cosmos and first Walkem governments, in the early years after confederation. The land thus set aside since 1879 by statute, as an endowment for the purpose of education, must now amount to a considerable acreage, and was intended to form the nucleus of a fund to endow and establish a university, and the legislature was so informed. Of course there is no portion of it definitely available as yet for university purposes until further dealt with by law, the executive council alone having the power to move the legislature in that direction.

"C" BATTERY.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I see that the Colonist of this morning contains a telegram from Ottawa of the same old chestnut, that the Dominion government is going to build barracks for C Battery. It appears, however, that the prospects for their construction this summer are rather slim. The plans are being prepared and if approved tenders will be called for. Judging from the small sum on the estimates for these projected barracks, they are of the cheap order and might, had not extraordinary disturbances been shown, have been under construction now.

If our representative, Major Prior, instead of sending a preposterous telegram informing the British government what they ought to do, would attend to his own duties he might become of service to this city. He has been far too slack over this C Battery business. He knows, being a military man, that the number of men in C Battery is far below its full complement; that small as it was when it arrived here, it has been steadily diminishing and now it is a mere skeleton of a force, and yet he has taken no steps whatever to have it raised to its full strength. If this decrease is allowed to go on we shall have the Dominion government wriggling out of the building of the barracks altogether, on the pretext that there is no C Battery left to put into them. How is it that Mr. Prior is dumb as an oyster" about the disgraceful back down of the Dominion to supply a small force to man the fortifications at Esquimalt when the Imperial government, which does not receive a single dollar of revenue from us, offered to build works and supply guns for nothing? He knows that it is to the interest of those who elected him to see the fortifications erected, and yet he keeps silent and when he barks "barks up the wrong tree."

Another important matter he has not attended to is urging the claims of the seized sealers for compensation from the Dominion, which issued them clearances for Behring's Sea.

I am sorry that it is necessary to call Major Prior's serious attention to his dereliction of duty, and to remind him that a less servile policy to the government of to-day and a more manly stand in defence of the rights of this province would be of benefit to his constituents.

Yours respectfully, CITIZEN.

A. O. FORESTERS AND THE PROVINCIAL JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES.

SIR,—It is not stated for what purpose the proceeds of their grand demonstration to-morrow is to be devoted, but it is to be hoped that as they now come before the public as a body appealing for liberal patronage, that the sum promised by the order towards this noble institution, viz., $200, remains still unpaid, and will no doubt be duly provided for out of such proceeds, in the absence of any previous announcement. The members of the order will do well to arrange this matter and then keep faith with the public. ONE OF THE COMMITTEE.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The editorial which appeared in THE DAILY TIMES, last evening, entitled "Woman Suffrage," concedes all that many of the most enthusiastic advocates of suffrage for women ask from its opponents. That is they simply desire an opportunity to try the experiment. Your treatment of the subject (as per the enclosed extract) as an opponent, is so fair and just that it elicits from us the highest commendation. We learned many years ago that only superior minds are capable of conceding to their adversaries all of the privileges and opportunities to prove their theories or doctrine correct, which, under similar circumstances they would be pleased to secure for themselves. T. CUMMINGS.

COMOX NEWS.

New Seams of Coal—Shipments—Logging, Etc.

The following advices were brought down from Comox this afternoon by the steamer Isabel:

Mr. Pottinger, in the employ of McPhee, who has been dangerously ill with inflammation of the bowels, is on the fair road to recovery, to the great joy of his many friends.

The steamship San Mateo, Capt. Colvill, left the Union Colliery Co.'s wharves this morning at 7 o'clock and came down abreast the Isabel. She has a cargo of 4600 tons of coal for San Francisco.

A seam of coal, eight feet in thickness, has been struck by boring in the Union mines of unusual richness, but before it can be worked a large amount of rock will have to be moved.

Mr. H. Curran, who is well known in the vicinity of Comox, was brought down by the steamer this afternoon very ill and will probably be taken to the hospital.

The coal boxes for the Union colliery, one hundred in number, are completed with the exception of sheeting them with iron, which is being done as fast as possible.

Dr. Young, who lately received the appointment of surgeon to the Union Colliery, is already a great favorite with the miners. He expects to pay Nanaimo a visit on the next trip of the Isabel.

Mr. Casey, of King & Casey's logging camp, arrived in the city this afternoon, and reports lumbering operations brisk. The firm have already logged 3,000,000 feet of lumber. The steamer Bell is expected at their camp this week to tow a boom of logs down for Saywards Saw mill at Victoria.—Free Press.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Cameron Injured—Wrestling Match—Baseball.

D. H. Cameron's wrestling match with the Jap will not come off on the date fixed on account of an accident. Cameron while going through his exercises with Schumaker, his trainer, on Friday last sprained his shoulder very badly. A sprain of this nature takes some weeks to heal, and while it is now getting better, Petrie is not yet by any means in condition for a severe contest such as the one between the Jap and him will undoubtedly be. Last evening he explained the state of affairs to Mr. Faulkner and proposed that the match should be postponed for two or three weeks in order to give him time to get properly into condition. Mr. Penis offered, in case his proposal was favorably considered, to pay the Jap's expenses.

WRESTLING MATCH AT TACOMA.

Arrangements for the wrestling match between Matsada Sorakichi, the Jap, and Pytre Arena, the Italian, mixed style, best two in three falls, for $200 a side, have been completed and will take place in Alpha opera house, Tacoma, next Monday night.

WRESTLING.

The wrestling match arranged to take place at Hastings between Cameron and the Jap is declared off. The reason is not known although it is believed the Jap wanted to have things his own way and that Cameron refused to have it that way.

Quinn who is training in the city states that Cameron sprained his shoulder while practicing and for that reason the match is postponed two weeks.

THE OTHER SIDE.

The probabilities are that another lacrosse match will be arranged between Victoria and Vancouver, when the tables will be turned if the latter can accomplish it. Victoria papers do not attempt to deny that the members of the visiting team were not treated courteously either during or subsequent to the game. However, if the Victoria boys will only come to Vancouver they will be taught a lesson in politeness.—News Advertiser.

HORSE RACE.

On Friday afternoon four of the fastest horses in British Columbia will run three half-mile heats for a purse of $400. One of the horses, Coquitlam Jim, belongs to Geo. Black, of Hastings; another horse, Royal, is owned by Cassell, of Nanaimo; the third horse is owned by parties from Oregon; Lascelles' Mayflower will be the fourth competitor in the race.

THE RING.

Tom Cleary and Mike Brennan, alias the "Port Costa Giant," have signed articles for a fight to a finish for $250 aside, to come off a week from Sunday on Whidby Island. Two-ounce gloves will be worn. Brennan now has a chance to cover himself with glory (?)

CRICKET.

There is a possibility that the Winnipeg cricketers will visit British Columbia this summer. Should the first eleven decide to come the champions would find it necessary to look to their laurels.

Vancouver and New Westminster will play cricket on Saturday.

YOUNG ATHLETES

Prof. Foster has opened an athletic class for juveniles on the premises next to "C" Battery barracks. The lads, about twenty, are instructed by him on Mondays and Thursdays in exercises conducive to health and strength.

VICTORIA ATHLETIC CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Athletic Club was held last evening at their rooms on Yates street. The club decided to move into their new rooms on Government street on Sept. 1st. A committee was appointed to purchase the necessary apparatus, including a large wrestling pad 16 feet square. The building committee will meet this evening. The new hall is 65 feet long by 30 feet wide. The whole flat will be occupied by the club. A meeting and social room on the third flat will be 18 feet by 30 feet. The bath rooms and dressing rooms will be fitted up by the club and every convenience will be provided for the comfort of the members.

THE GAME TO-MORROW.

The regular game of the series will be played at Beacon Hill to morrow afternoon between the James Bays and Mayflowers. An interesting game may be expected. Following are the players.

A NEW RAILROAD.

A Plan Under Way to Connect New Westminster and Portland.

Portland, Aug. 1.—Portland is to have an independent railroad connection with British Columbia in two years. Attorney H. Y. Thompson has returned from New Westminster where he closed the deal for himself and associates. The road is to be a standard gauge. The people of New Westminster some time ago organized the New Westminster Southern Railroad Company to build lines southward to the boundary between the United States and British Columbia, a distance of twenty seven miles. It was expected the road would connect with an American railroad.

Mr. Thompson says the road will be completed to Portland by the summer of 1891. That portion of the proposed road from the Skagit river to this city has not been permanently located, and will be an independent railroad. It will be built by Bennett, Larabee and their associates. The distance between Portland and New Westminster as the road will run is 305 miles. At the British end 500 men are at work. Fifteen miles have been graded and seventeen miles of right of way secured and cleared. At Fairhaven there are 700 men at work and 15 miles have been graded and the right of way secured and cleared for 25 miles more. At this point there are forty miles of rails, two 75-ton engines and 26 cars are on the ground. The company has two new steamers and a number of scows, which are sufficient for carrying materials.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

Emperor William Arrives at Portsmouth—Turkey Preparing for War.

The Maybrick Murder Case Resumed—English and American Affairs.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Major McLeod, of Dalkeith, Scotland, well known on account of his interests in the Scotch crofters, and Roderick McLeod, of Edinburgh, waited upon agent McMillan at the Manitoba Government offices to day, to obtain information as to the prospect for the crofters in that province, and also as to the amount required to give each family a start upon their arrival. They expressed the opinions that if such arrangements can be made with the government to render financial aid, a large number of crofters will come out. The McLeods hope to visit Manitoba shortly and report to their friends upon their return to Scotland.

THE DEMON JEALOUSY.

Fergus, Ont., Aug. 2.—Miss Ellis, daughter of Elam Ellis, of Garafraxa township, was stabbed seven times last night by Patrick Hailey. The victim's condition is precarious. Jealousy was the cause of the act.

TRAIN ACCIDENT.

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.—Particulars of the collision between the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton passenger train with a freight train near Oxford last night reached here this morning. None of the passengers were hurt. The fireman of the freight was killed and the engineer of the passenger seriously injured.

CLERK AND $7,000 BOTH GONE.

San Francisco, Aug. 2.—Moses Deutch, a clerk in the employ of Greenbaum & Co., stockbrokers, has disappeared, and so has $7,000 of the firm's money. Deutch acted in the capacity of delivery clerk, and instead of delivering the stocks sold them and pocketed the above amount. He has a wealthy brother connected with the firm, who is now in Europe, and it is believed he will make good the defalcation on his return to San Francisco.

JOHN L. ARRESTED.

New York, Aug. 2.—John L. Sullivan, who was arrested last night on a requisition from Governor Lowry of Mississippi, was brought to the district attorney's office this morning. John L. waived all rights and agreed to go to Mississippi. He then surrendered himself to Sheriff Childs of Mississippi, who said he would take Sullivan back to Mississippi to-morrow.

THE AGGRESSIVE C. P. R.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—The Times this morning says: "Notwithstanding the concessions of the Canadian Pacific, that road must be regarded as the victor in its struggle with its American neighbors. The Southern Pacific came to the transcontinental association with a proposition to abolish entirely all differentials, and gave out that nothing less than absolute compliance with these demands would prevent it from carrying out a threat to disrupt the organization. The Canadian Pacific refused firmly to entertain the proposition, and the Southern Pacific, not daring to take the responsibility of breaking up the association and demoralizing rates, came down from its high horse and consented to a compromise, so the transcontinental lines will hang together for three months longer, and there is good reason to believe when that time expires all differences will be amicably adjusted and the hatchet buried for an indefinite period.

DESTRUCTIVE LIGHTNING.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 2.—The City railway stables were struck by lightning this morning and burned. Sixty mules and horses, together with seven street cars, were consumed. The loss is heavy.

CHEMICAL WORKS BURNED.

Glasgow, Aug. 2.—Ross' chemical works caught fire this morning and the flames are still burning fiercely. The total destruction of the building is imminent. MacFarlane's distillery is also threatened by the enormous quantities of vitriol flowing into the canal from the chemical works. The damage by fire already amounts to $100,000.

MAYBRICK TRIAL.

Liverpool, Aug. 2.—At the trial of Mrs. Maybrick to-day, charged with the poisoning of her husband, Dr. Fuller testified that he had prescribed tonics for Mr. Maybrick on several occasions. The patient never hinted to him that he was in the habit of taking arsenic.

THE RACES.

London, Aug. 2.—At Goodwood to-day the race for Goodwood stakes was won by Ingram, Tristpone second, Millstream third. Six started.

A FAMOUS CASE.

Liverpool, Aug. 2.—At the resumption to-day of the trial of Mrs. Maybrick on a charge of poisoning her husband, Dr. Humphreys was called to the stand and in reply to the prisoner's counsel said that if the idea of arsenical poisoning had not been suggested he would have made an affidavit on the basis of an autopsy performed on Mr. Maybrick's body, that death had resulted from acute congestion of the stomach. He was unable to mention any post mortem symptoms in the case, but the positive distinctives of arsenical poisoning which were not generally characteristic of gastritis or gastro enteritis.

GAELIC ASSOCIATION.

London, Ont., August 2.—Archbishop Walsh has publicly denounced the Gaelic Association. He states that the governmental influence is working toward a nefarious plot, which will engraft upon the association a secret society, aiming to thwart a constitutional monument. The Archbishop opposes a judicial commission.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Paris, Aug. 2.—M. Brunet, judicial liquidator of the Panama Canal Co., announces to the stockholders that a syndicate has taken all the lottery bonds recently issued and that if the project fails the bankruptcy law will permit a payment of 8 per cent. to creditors. Terms of sale to the syndicate are not revealed.

THE QUEEN'S MOVEMENTS.

New York, Aug. 2.—The Mail and Express London cable says a report that the Queen was considering a trip to America has neither been denied or affirmed. The fact that the Queen is now inclined towards visiting Ireland and that the rumored trip to America has not been denied, is creating much comment.

WAR IN THE EAST.

London, Aug. 2.—Reports from the field say that dervishes are marching their forces five miles south of Tesk, around which General Grenfell is concentrating his army. Latest advices state that a battle is imminent. Both sides are preparing for a sharp and bitter engagement. Grenfell is confident that decisive action will scatter the enemy beyond recovery.

M. P. DEAD.

London, Aug. 2.—Sir William Ewart, conservative member of parliament for the north division of Belfast, is dead.

THE WARLIKE TURK.

Constantinople, Aug. 2.—The Turkish minister of war has ordered eighty thousand reserve troops to be called out immediately. The government is purchasing uniforms and military stores in large quantities.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

His Reception in England—An Imposing Affair.

London, Aug. 1.—The Thames was alive to-day with craft of all sorts decked in holiday attire and packed with spectators of all classes. Their destination was Spithead, where they will arrive to-morrow in time to witness the imposing reception of Emperor William of Germany by British war vessels assembled there for the annual naval review which takes place Saturday. The Emperor, on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, passed down to-night at 9 o'clock and is expected to be at Spithead early to-morrow morning. The whole squadron passed close enough to Dover to exchange salutes with the castle. There was a continuous and deafening roar from heavy guns on shore answered by batteries on board the ironclads and a long brass gun placed amidships on the Emperor's yacht. The reception, to be given at Spithead, will be of the most imposing nature. Emperor William, immediately after his reception by the British men-of-war, will land at Cowes and proceed at once under escort of a body of marines to Osborne.

Portsmouth, Aug. 2.—As soon as the German imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, with the Emperor on board and attended by a squadron of German men-of-war were sighted, pilots put out to take them in charge. The Prince of Wales on board the royal yacht, Osborne, also started down the harbor to meet the emperor.

THE JESUIT MATTER.

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—It is stated in well informed circles that the law officers of the crown have for some time been considering the legality under the British North America Act, of the Jesuits' Estate bill and the petition to the Governor-General praying for its disallowance. Further, that in the opinion of the distinguished legal experts, the measure was strictly within the power of the Legislature of Quebec, being of a domestic nature and dealing altogether with a question appertaining to and affecting that Province. It is stated that their opinion will be conveyed through the secretary for the colonies to the advisers of His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada.

SEXTON'S MOTION REJECTED.

London, August 1.—In the Commons to-day Thomas Sexton moved an adjournment to consider the sentence imposed upon Dr. Tanner for assault upon Police Inspector Stephens last May, maintaining that the Crimes Act itself said he did not contemplate exactly a technical assault, but provided in express terms for the punishment of assault with violence. There was no claim anywhere that the assault with which Dr. Tanner was charged was anything more than a technical assault. No violence was attempted. The provisions of the act under which Dr. Tanner was convicted did not cover the case at all, and the sentence was clearly illegal. On a division, Sexton's motion to adjourn was rejected by 174 to 118.

ACCIDENT ON A MAN-OF-WAR.

Paris, Aug. 1.—The training frigate Couronne, while off Ayaos, in the south of France, this morning, burst one of her machine guns, killing eight of her men and injuring seventeen others. The accident occurred in the course of practice firing.

THE GRANADA'S TREASURE.

New York, Aug. 1.—George Gould, President of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, has received a telegram from the company's agent at Manzanilla, stating that the treasure, footing up to about $200,000, on board of the Pacific mail steamship Granada when that vessel was lost, has been recovered. The Granada went ashore about a month ago on rocks along the coast of Southern California. The vessel is valued at $2,000,000, and is a total loss.

HE WALKED ON WATER

Boston, Aug. 1.—Prof. Oldrews, of Chelsea, champion water walker of the world, to-day accomplished the feat of walking five miles across the bay near Hull. Encouraged by his success the professor started from Hull this evening to walk to Boston, a distance of 20 miles. Nothing has been heard of him since he started. He carries a lantern and confidently expects to reach Boston in safety.

WHAT SECRETARY BLAINE SAYS.

Bangor, Me., July 31.—Secretary Blaine passed through this city this evening, en route to Bar Harbor. A reporter called his attention to the declaration of a Boston paper to the effect that it would be impossible for the national government to "sustain the pretension of Secretary Blaine that Behring's Sea is distinctly American waters." The Secretary of State simply remarked that it might be well for the paper in question to indicate the occasion, official or unofficial, where he had said anything at all on that point. Blaine made a further statement that everything done on the fur seal question since March the fourth last, was in literal compliance with the directions contained in the act of congress which was approved by President Cleveland on the last day of his term.

FEELING IN ONTARIO.

Peter White, M. P., on the Behring Sea Matter.

Ottawa, Aug. 2.—Peter White, M. P., was interviewed to-day. He expressed himself strongly on the Behring Sea outrage, and is surprised at the forbearance and inactivity of the British government. As to Canadians taking active steps to protect Canadian vessels, Mr. White said their hands were tied. He contrasted the inaction of the British government now with their course in the Mason Slidell affair. He predicted that the result of Great Britain's forbearance now will lead to final trouble with the United States. Emboldened by the license allowed them now, some act will be committed of so outrageous a nature that Great Britain cannot ignore it.

Interrupted.

The telegraph lines through Washington are interrupted to day by bush fires and our report is somewhat abbreviated. Some time, perhaps, our citizens will take the question of telegraphic service into their serious consideration and do something towards perfecting the system.

GOVERNOR SCHULTZ

Insists on Ordering his own Supplies—Ministers Object.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Aug., 2.—The Sun says serious friction exists between Gov. Schultz and ministers of the crown. A number of orders-in-council remained unsigned for weeks, the ministers claim greatly to the injury of the public business. It is rumored that the chief cause of the trouble is that the governor orders supplies for Government House down town on his own responsibility and has bills sent to the government for payment. This the government object to on the ground that the statute requires his honor to make out a requisition for what he wants and submit it to the ministers for approval before anything is ordered. The Sun says there is a serious misunderstanding.

SWEEPING REFORMS.

The Dual Language to go—Change in the School Laws.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Aug. 2.—It is said that a measure will be introduced next session of the legislature to abolish the jury system in civil cases in Manitoba; also that the government will submit a measure abolishing dual languages, that is the use of the French language in Manitoba, government documents only to be printed in one language.

The Board of Education will also be wiped out, and a portfolio of Minister of Education will be created. This will do away with the popular Superintendent of Education, Somerset. The intention, it is said, is to work a complete revolution in the entire system. Many other changes are hinted at in the workings of the institutions of the province.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Toronto, Aug. 2.—The mail steamer Algernon, plying between Montreal and Toronto, ran into the canal bank yesterday and sank in fifteen feet of water. The passengers were taken off safely.

The Empire declares that the petitioning by the Equal Rights Association has been a farce and points to the small number of signers as proof.

HIS OPINION.

What Col. Stevens, U. S. Consul Here, Thinks of the Seizure.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Robert Stevens, United States Consul at Victoria, who is now in this city, when spoken to this morning regarding the sealing question, said: "I do not think there is any danger of collision between British men-of-war and American revenue cutters at Behring sea, but I do think there is serious danger of fighting between the crews of sealers and United States revenue cutters. Most of the Victoria sealers are manned by Indian hunters. They often carry as many as thirty Indians, all armed with the best rifles and ammunition. These Indians are brave, fierce and warlike. They share the catch and rather than lose the profits of the trip, they might attempt a coup de main the revenue men. What I fear most is that some of those savage Indians might be goaded on by white officers to do something that would bring about some serious consequences."

ZOOLOGY IN SCHOOLS.

The protest of the high school teachers against the addition of zoology to the curriculum of the schools seems to be well timed. Zoology is a fancy study. It is not necessary that a young man or woman striking out in the world should be in a position to undertake the management of a zoological garden. School studies should be of a purely practical nature. So far as any knowledge of zoology is concerned as a means of acquiring bread and butter, the pupil might as well be taught theosophy or any other occult doctrine. For social purposes, a knowledge of zoology would not come amiss, and particularly to the individual who wished to talk learnedly of the Beacon Hill Park menagerie, but we will guarantee that the park managers would not give a man a job on account of his zoological attainments. If, however, the educational managers in Ontario are no more in the habit of heeding the protests of teachers than is the case in this province, zoology will be added to the curriculum and the young idea of Canada be made to carry a burden he has no more use for than a knowledge of cuniform inscriptions.

JOURNALISTIC "FLOPS."

Since six months past two of Toronto's foremost journals have found it expedient to recede from positions on certain public questions. The Globe promptly crayfished on the Jesuits Estates question as soon as it discovered that to oppose it was a violation of certain fixed constitutional principles, and now we understand that the Mail, a journal whose editorial expressions in point of excellence stand second to none either in the United States or Canada, has receded from its position on Commercial Union. The history of journalism on this continent does not afford a parallel to such "flops" as these. It is seldom that a position on a public question becomes so utterly untenable as to require to be evacuated with the precipitancy which has distinguished the movements of the journals in question. That, however, these papers should have the courage to back down when they found that their theories were impracticable speaks well for their disinterestedness, recommends them for being honest, and sets an example for Tory papers who are frequently compelled to stultify themselves. In judging of the Mail's abandonment of Commercial union, it is difficult to say to what extent it was urged to the step by its own inner convictions, but considering the closeness of the departure to Senator Hoar's announcement that the Commercial union pear was not yet ripe, we might infer that the one was the complement of the other. Of course there is nothing of the kind; nevertheless it is fortunate for the Mail that it should be endorsed by such high authority as the American senator. There can scarcely be any doubt of the impracticability of Commercial union, and from the fact that the Americans are not willing, so it appears to reciprocate on equitable terms.

INDEPENDENT JOURNALS.

We note that notwithstanding the disastrous consequences which attended the Columbian's analogical deal, that it is good-natured, even cordial, and that with a large stock of advice "between floors" delicately refrains from offering it to us. We cannot understand, however, how an organ can support a government with the degree of solicitude which distinguishes the Columbian and yet aver that it is not a government paper. This is a phase of journalism we are not "on to." If it was the habit of the Columbian to take the government to task occasionally, we might take some stock in its alleged independence, but since it swears by John, John can do no wrong, we are bound to infer that it is as much the slave to political interests as it accuses THE TIMES of being. No journal can use the word independence unqualifiedly. Such a state or condition does not exist. We are all the slaves of our environment. We would like to see the individual or the concern which is unqualifiedly independent. Independence, however, exists in degree, and in that respect THE TIMES is the most independent paper in the province. If it has got assailed the opposition it is because the opposition has made no mistakes, is responsible for no bad legislation. Had the opposition been responsible for the artesian well boring fiasco, the TIMES would have defended it. Had the opposition constitutionalized the "protection" of the lawyers, and sundry other bills smacking strongly of class legislation the TIMES would have denounced it. If ever the opposition lends itself to the support of classes at the expense of the people, the TIMES will denounce it. We shall not distinguish ourselves by masterly silence, as was the case with the government organs last winter. If we cannot support a policy we shall say so. We shall not admit tacit defeat by taking refuge in silence. This is a species of slavishness not to be endured. The exactions of party are onerous, but it will be a cold day for the opposition when it asks us to pass over in silence a specific case of political malpractice.

SIR JOHN'S SUCCESSOR.

The Portage, Manitoba, Saturday Night, of which Mr. J. M. ROBINSON, ex-Provincial Grand Master of the Orange order, is editor, contains the following item: "Mr. MCCARTHY is one of the ablest speakers in the Dominion, and his name is prominently mentioned now as a probable successor to Sir JOHN MACDONALD." Considering that Sir JOHN has retained power only by catering to the French vote, it would be interesting to know how Mr. MCCARTHY could lead the Conservative party in power after he had antagonized every representative from Quebec. The refusal of Sir JOHN to disallow the Jesuit bill will, very probably, give him a new lease of power. Had it not been for this diversion in his favor MERCIER could easily have captured Quebec for the Liberals at the next election. As it is, Sir JOHN will be his own successor if the battle is fought on the Jesuit question.

THE SHAH.

The relations of the Shah to the two great powers of Europe, Britain and Russia, are of more importance than most people imagine. The territory over which the Shah exercises supreme control is the neutral ground between the British and Russian possessions in the East. Britain, desirous of opposing Russia's progress in the east, would use Persia as a buffer, and so endeavors to propitiate its ruler. Russia, impelled by motives just the opposite, would remove this barrier of British diplomacy, and so the Shah, to Russia, is an object of considerable interest. The spectacle, in other words, is that of two nations bidding for the sympathies of a monarch who, only for the geographical position of his territories, would be regarded of no more consequence than Sitting Bull. In this diplomatic contest in which fetes and champagne are being made to do the greater part of the talking, there is little fault to find if the point is gained, for champagne is cheaper than gunpowder, but failing to gain the point sought, then what? The Shah will return to his dominions in much the same mind as when he left them. He will have been impressed, of course, with Russia's progress and Britain's greatness, but with his usual propensities, still alive and his mind thoroughly made up that he is the fish the two nations are angling for, the question he will undertake to solve is, which hook is the richest baited. But the Shah will have to exercise extraordinary judgment in choosing between the baits offered him. He has to make up his mind which of the two nations are the better able to maintain their pretentions in the East, for failing to ally himself with the stronger nation the victor in the struggle will treat him with small consideration. But, after all, why should it make any special difference to Britain which way the Shah leans? The Montreal Herald, writing on the subject, says: Supposing Russia did get to the ocean by absorbing Persia, what then? Would not Russia's first move be to develop her commerce with other countries and in doing so develop the now strangled resources of that country? Not only would England share in that trade, but the very fact of Russia having a wider commerce and a larger number of ships on the sea, which would be exposed to the danger of capture and destruction in the case of war with her traditional enemy, would very effectively bind her to keep the peace. Giving Russia scope to develop her foreign commerce and mercantile marine will do more to curb her military aggressiveness and tame her desire for conquest of new territory than pooping her up within the Baltic and Black Seas will ever effect.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Rush pretends to be looking for poachers. Why don't they arrest the Vancouver World?

Last Sunday the country between London and Liverpool, Manchester, Leeds and other important centres was electrified by the appearance of the Herald special Sunday newspaper train, the first newspaper Sunday train ever run in England. It consisted of a locomotive and five newspaper vans.

The Evangelical Churchman, Toronto, says: Certain Anglican clergymen of distinction followed Dr. Newman (now Cardinal) to Rome, but many have returned to the Episcopal fold—amongst them Lord Robert Montague, who denounces Rome as a political power that claims supreme dominion in the name of religion; Canon Foulkes, who declares that Romanism as a religious system is a "colossal lie;" Rev. Dr. Law, the Duke of Norfolk's almoner (Dr. Law is one of the Oxford orationians, who left the Roman Church not long since with Fathers Addis, Calton and Hutton, all men of rare merit); Rev. Mr. Roberts, and the celebrated Dominican, Rev. Father Whitehead. Amongst the ladies who have returned to their first faith is the Nun of Kenmare, Miss Mary Frances Clare Cusack, "first mother-general of the Sisters of Peace."

—Unbidden guests are often welcomest when they are gone.

—F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

HOMESICK FOR SOME CHEERFUL TROPICAL PRODUCTS.

He Yearned for the Society of the Centipedes and Scorpions of Bermuda—A Graphic Description of the Get Up and Habits of the Tarantula.

"D'ye know what I come from, stranger?" said a thin man with big whiskers and a wide brimmed white hat. "Course ye don't. I'm just in from the foothills of the Sierra. D'ye know what I'm headed for? Bet ye don't! I'm pointed straight for Nassau and Bermuda. Never out among the foothills, I reckont. Thought ye wasn't. It's a great country. But there hain't no centipedes out thar. I missed the centipedes. I was kind o' used to 'em, havin spent a year or two with 'em down in Bermuda and Nassau. Another drawback to the foothill country is that it's a little short o' scorpions. Thur's a few out thar, but not enough to make it cheerful, and it'd have been a trifle dull for me if it hadn't been for the tarantulles. Know what a tarantuly is, don't ye? Course ye know that.

A REGULAR LADY KILLER.

"Guess ye never see one o' them big spiders, though, did ye? Thought not. They size up first rate out on the adobe grounds of the Sierra foothills, but they ain't more'n half as big as tarantulles is in Bermuda and Nassau. I've seen 'em down thar as big as your hat. But I guess they hain't got no more fire in their jaws than the foothills tarantuly carries. Tarantulles is thick as flies out thar 'mong the foothills. When the nights is warm they sally out on the promenade so numerous that ye have to watch out or ye'll step on some o' 'em and hurt 'em. Many a fine mornin' I've got up and seen tarantuly hair enough on the ground to temper a square rod o' mortar. It's hair they shed in free fights 'tween themselves durin' the night. You might walk over the adobe grounds of the foothills for a month and wouldn't notice ye was walkin' over a tarantuly settlement. Maybe ya'd see what ye thought was a dead leaf or a piece o' dirt make a sudden flip kind of a movement, but the chances is that ye'd think it was owin' to the wind a stirrin' somethin' or other on the ground. I'll bet that's what ye'd think. But it wouldn't be the wind a stirrin' nothin'. It'd be the trap door of a tarantuly's den closin' shut. A good many folks'd think, when they first see a tarantuly's den, that it's a dice box some body's dropped. I'll bet you'd think so yer self, now. Tarantuly's dens looks a powerful lot like dice boxes, but don't ye never go and pick one up, thinkin' ye're found a little curiosity, or ye'll see that ye're found a curiosity bigger'n a heap, and maybe there won't be whisky enough in yer flask to out pizen the pizen the tarantuly has socked into ye. But when ye see what ye might think was the wind a stirrin' a leaf or somethin', that'll be a tarantuly shettin' his trap door. He's been a-peekin out at ye, and, not likin' yer out, has shet himself in, and ye can bet he's holdin' the door, too. That door is fitted on to the den by a hinge on one side. It's made out o' leaves and sticks and dirt, which is glued together with some patent cement the tarantuly makes himself.

"It hain't no sign that the tarantuly is to home when his door's shet, for healways shets it when he goes out on the war path or on the mash. Didn't know the tarantuly was a great masher, did ye? Cert'nly ye didn't. Why, he's a regular dude on the mash. He'll stand on the corners by the hour, strokin' down his whiskers with some of his paws—and a tarantuly is close on to all whiskers and paws—and watchin' out for lady tarantulas. When one comes along toward what he stands, he'll pull his chin whisker and strike a jaunty and kinder skin his eye sideways at Miss Tarantuly as she promenades up his way. If she passes close enough to him he'll shoot out one of his long forelegs at her and give it a little twitch, and draw it back quick, just as if he war flirtin' with her and sayin', 'Oh, you easy thing, you! I'll strike ye real hard!' Wouldn't hardly believe that, would ye? Course ye wouldn't; but it's true as some preachin' I've heard. But it's when the tarantuly of the adobe ground foothills comes home that he's great. He comes home with a rush. He sails up on the dead run, and before ye can begin to see how he does it he throws that door o' his'n open and is inside o' his shebang with the door shet and locked quicker'n the brown lizard or the foothills can shake off its tail. Thar! Thar's somethin', too, that helps to drive sugwee off, out thar 'mong the foothills.

A LIZARD TALE.

"You wouldn't believe that there's a lizard out thar that's bells so that if can flip its tail off as easy as you can snap yer fingers, and then set right in and grow another inside of a week, would ye? Hardly, ye wouldn't. But that's the kind of a lizard that sprouts out thar. And the fun of it is that there hain't nothin' that wiggles that the adobe ground tarantuly dotes on more'n he does on that brown lizard. He'll walk ten miles any time o' day or night to sock his jaws into one of 'em. And yit it hain't more'n once in a hundred times that he can make his meal on one.

"These lizards is swift on their feet, but the tarantuly is swifter, and when he gits on the trail of a lizard he's sure to haul up with it. But he always grabs for its tail. Quicker'n an Injin can steal yer blanket the lizard gives that twitch o' its'n and the tail comes off and the lizard goes right on. Thur never was a full grown foothills tarantuly that hain't had a lizard trot away from him and leave nothin' but its tail in his mouth more'n a hundred times, and yit every time it's done the tarantuly's eyes bange clear out on hi swhiskers, he's so took back, and he can't never seem to understand just the how of it. Seems a little tough, don't it? It does that, but anybody that's ever been out to the Sierra foothills'll know that I'm givin' it t. yestraight. The tarantuly bolts the tail, all the same, as soon as he gits over his surprise, and then lerages around for another lizard to tackle.

"Yes, sir! The tarantulies goes a good ways toward cheerin' up a feller and livenin' up the landscape out thar; and, takin' them and the rattlesnakes and the Injins, a feller ought to be able to content himself and not git lonesome and down in the mouth, now, had he? But somehow I got the blues. I couldn't shake 'em off. Then of a sudden I know'd what was allin' me, and I packed right up. Now, I bet you don't know what alled me. You don't know what I'm headed for Bermudy and Nassau for! Course ye don't! Just for the scorpions and the centipedes. I'm dead gone homesick over 'em, and that's all that ails me!"—New York Sun.

"THE LADY OF LYONS."

Its First Performance Anonymous to Deceive Hostile Critics.

I am not old enough to remember the publication of the early novels of Edward Lytton Bulwer, and consequently am unable to speak of their reception by the public press, but when that gifted gentleman took to writing for the stage I perfectly recollect the savage attacks that were made upon his dramatic attempts.

There is no doubt that Bulwer had, in some way or other, made himself personally offensive to the critics; but, whether or no, he became fully persuaded that no play written by him, however good it might be, would be allowed to succeed upon the stage.

Acting upon this conviction he, in counsel with Macready, who always played the hero in his pieces, determined to produce his next dramatic attempt anonymously. Happy thought! The subject fixed upon was "The Lady of Lyons," and when the play was produced—about the year 1838, I think—the authorship was known to two persons only—Macready and Bulwer. Dickens was the intimate friend of both actor and writer and on the invitation of Macready he took his place among the audience on the first night, in total ignorance of anything and everything connected with the play. The curtain fell to a storm of applause. Dickens went delightedly behind the scenes to congratulate the great actor on a well deserved success.

In Macready's dressing room Dickens found Bulwer, looking, as he thought, a little disturbed.

"A capital play; good like—well and dramatically worked out. The author, a young fellow, I suppose, has been looking a little at our friend here," indicating Bulwer. "If this is his first work I predict a fine future for him; as for you, my dear Macready, you are in for a long run, depend upon it." Then, turning to Bulwer, Dickens said: "Did you see the play from the front? I did not notice you among the audience."

"No," said Bulwer, "I saw quite enough of it from the wings."

"Well," exclaimed Dickens, "you are not satisfied with it?"

"Not a bit of it," said Bulwer. "It was capitally acted, fortunately for the author. Without our friend here it might have been a hideous failure."

"My dear Bulwer, if I did not believe you to be free from the slightest tinge of jealousy of other writers, what you have just said would make me uneasy. The fellow has written a bright, capital play, and you should be the first to acknowledge as much."

"Not if I don't think so, I suppose," said Bulwer with a smile.

In telling this anecdote, as well as I can remember, I have used Dickens' expressions as I heard them from his own lips.

The morning following the production of "The Lady of Lyons" was a triumph for Bulwer, who was requested by the papers to take a lesson from his rival, who had shown by his admirable play that he had dramatic powers which were conspicuous by their absence in such works as had hitherto proceeded from the pen of Mr. Bulwer.—Frith's Reminiscences.

What Can Be Done by an Average Farmer.

It is not impossible for any farmer, who has common sense, industry, the best knowledge of dairying obtainable in this meeting and 80 acres of good land to keep 50 cows on his farm. He can pasture 20 acres, use 20 for soiling, 20 for hay and 20 for ensilage. He can hire all labor needed for $300 and buy 60 tons of feed for $720. Good cows, well fed, will average 250 pounds of butter each or 15,000 for the 60. He can sell his butter at 22 cents per pound, or $3,750. He will have 500,000 pounds of skim milk worth 20 cents per 100, or $600. The calf product, if the herd consists of grades, will be worth $300—a total revenue of $4,650, with an outlay of $1,200 and an immense amount of hard work and thinking on the part of the manager. While the result given may seem extravagant and unattainable, they are clearly within reach. There are hundreds of men in Wisconsin who get 35 cents per pound for butter, scores of men who get more than 250 pounds of butter per cow, any number whose calves average them more than $5 each, and thousands who get 20 cents per hundred for skim milk. Very few keep a cow on less than one and one-half acres of ground.—H. C. Adams, as reported in Milwaukee Sentinel.

Pats Out Fires and Eats the Ashes.

Mr. Elmer Partridge keeps neither hand grenades nor fire extinguishers in his house on Halsey street, near Hill street, Newark, because he owns a dog of the Irish setter breed that can put out flames as quickly as a fireman, and with far less damage to the threatened property. Twice he discovered small fires at night on his master's premises, and pawed them out before he aroused the family to show them his good work. On both occasions he was slightly burned. Mr. Partridge has no doubt that if he had the least fear that a fire was getting beyond his control he would sound an alarm at once.

A bundle of straw or newspapers ignited, and a cry of "fire" brings Dan, as the dog is called, at a gallop to the place. If he cannot extinguish the flames with his paws he rolls his body over and over upon it, quite regardless of the danger of singing his handsome red coat. But the strangest part of his performance is the after piece. As soon as he has put out the fire he lies down and deliberately eats all the ashes with great apparent enjoyment. The animal is, otherwise, a vegetarian. He will eat no meat, but devours vegetables greedily, and, delights, especially, in mashed potatoes.—New York Sun.

Not Afraid of Ghosts.

A gentleman from the country said: "I saw that piece you had about the 'haunted house' in the 15th, and some people don't believe such things, and neither did I. I tell you I have changed. I have heard their noises; heard them walk, and seen them cut capers. One night I was lying by my wife who was asleep, and the moon was shining brightly, a window was near by and the curtain was up, when I heard a noise, and right in the moonshine up popped a little nigger about two feet high, without a sign of a head. I raised up on my elbow and looked at it carefully. It bobbed around, and got about as good as if it had a head. I took a stick and punched it, but felt nothing. I thought to catch it, but it commenced getting larger, and kept on until it filled the whole side of the house and gradually disappeared, and I got up and looked for it, but it was gone. I've seen ghosts, but ain't a bit afraid of them, for I expect to be one myself some time."—Americus (Ga.) Republican.

True Enough.

"Willie Johnson," said the teacher, "if you had five doughnuts, and your mother were to give you four more, how many would you have?"

Willie twisted the corners of his jacket, moved his lips, and tried to think, but he couldn't.

"Don't count 'em up," said the teacher, "tell me right off."

"I should have—a—a—a—a"——

"Well, how many?"

"Huh—I shd have 'nough, I guess," said Willie, grinning broadly.—Youth's Companion.

A Sure Sign.

"Whisans," said Mrs. Trembly, "hear that horrid dog! Isn't it awful?"

"Is that the same dog that kept us awake last night?"

"I think so. It sounds unlucky, doesn't it?"

"Didn't you ever hear that the howling of a dog was a sure sign of death in the family?"

"No. Whose family?"

"The dog's," said Trembly, in a firm voice, as he stepped out of bed and reached for his revolver.—Merchant Traveler.

He Would Do.

An Oxford county parson tells us this: A young Methodist minister had made application to the conference for a license. He was highly recommended by the presiding elder whom the bishop asked about the applicant's preaching abilities. "Have you ever heard him?" asked the bishop. "No, sir," replied the presiding elder, "I have never heard him, but he has heard me twice and he stood it like a hero." The license was granted.—Paris (Me.) Democrat.

Of Little Consequence.

The fashion papers now have a department devoted to ladies' pet dogs, which, we are informed, will be worn larger next season than last, including setters, greyhounds and collies. Nobody has yet thought of a husband department for these journals. That is not, probably, because the styles change too.—Washington Star.

He will appear before the magistrate in the morning. In the meantime he is safe from liquor in the city gaol.

For the South.

The steamship Umatilla arrived from the Sound at three this afternoon, and after loading was to leave for San Francisco. The following are passengers: C. M. Gordon, J. W. Isaacs, A. E. Westcott and wife, Hy. Smilow and wife, Miss T. Haughton, Miss Colin H. Campbell, S Withrow, Miss Laura M. Adams, Miss Ella Robson, Miss Annie Denyens, Thos. Ball, T. G. Matthews, Robt. Jacques.

"Mr." Linton of Ballet Fame.

J. R. Linton, the lengthy individual who once startled Victorians with the originality of his money-making schemes, was up before the court in Vancouver a few days ago for carrying on the business of a maltster without first obtaining a license from the inland revenue department. He was let off however without a fine. Mr. Linton appears to have degenerated from the days when as an admirer of the ballet he proposed a scheme to bring a large number of ballet girls for the delectation of the public.

New Baptist Congregation.

Rev. M. L. Rugg, Mrs. J. Wilson, Deacon Walker, John Sluggett, Sr., Mr. Morrissey and Mr. Borden returned from Nanaimo on this afternoon's train. During their visit to Nanaimo the Baptist church was reorganized. Two meetings were held in that city on Thursday. Rev. M. L. Rugg was appointed moderator and the Rev. Thos. Baldwin secretary, at the morning meeting. A committee was appointed to arrange for the recognition services during the evening. At the evening service the moderator opened the meeting with prayer. An eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. T. Baldwin, and Rev. J. B. Kennedy, of Vancouver, delivered the address. The pastor delivered the benediction. During the services the choir sang several fine hymns. The new church starts with a large congregation.

The Weekly Issue.

THE WEEKLY TIMES was issued this morning as usual. It is a good number and suitable for mailing abroad.

Death of Mrs. Collier.

Mrs. Julia Collier, who was so terribly burned by the explosion of a can of coal oil at Seattle on Saturday afternoon, died at 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

Picnics.

The Sunday school children of the Reformed Episcopal church are holding a picnic at Foul Bay to-day. The party went out in the "Young America" this morning. Several private picnic parties went out of the city to-day.

Experimental Farm.

Thos. A. Sharp, of Adelphia, Man., has been appointed superintendent of the government experimental farm at Agassiz, B. C. Work on the farm will be commenced immediately. Several buildings and officers' dwellings are to be erected.

Naval Employees' Picnic.

The employees of the naval yard, Esquimalt, will picnic at Goldstream to-morrow, leaving in the bus Young America at nine thirty in the morning and returning in the evening and taking dinner at Mr. Bayley's, Half Way House, Esquimalt Road.

The Late McNab Stuart.

It was intended to have made a post mortem examination of the late McNab Stuart this morning under Dr. Redmond's supervision, but later on this plan was cancelled. At four o'clock this afternoon the remains were interred in Ross Bay cemetery.

Bush Fires.

Passengers over the C. P. R. report bush fires very bad in the mountains. At Palliser on the 27th inst., a large force of men had to work hard to save Mr. Wells' mill property, the mill catching fire twice. The view of the grand scenery of the Rockies is very limited now owing to the dense smoke.

The Nesbitt Property.

The Nesbitt property, situated at the head of Fort street, has been subdivided and is now offered for sale. The electric street railway, which runs past this property, will be completed on the first of November, thus bringing residents in this part of the city within easy reach of the business portion and greatly increasing the value of their holdings.

Turns Up.

Bruce, the correspondent reported lost among the glaciers while investigating mirages in Alaska, was brought to Juneau by Indians a week ago, and will return immediately to continue investigations in what he believes will prove to be the most interesting and wonderful country for scientists and tourists in the world.

That Marriage.

A communication was received last night by H. L. Salmon, secretary of the Foresters, from a young man of Vancouver stating "to have everything ready as he wished to win the prize by getting married" in public to-morrow. He was wired back that arrangements in this respect were completed. As to the identity of the couple being married to-morrow afternoon, their names are a profound secret as yet.

Cloverdale Property.

Attention is directed to the new advertisement of Leet, Simon & Co., which appears on the second page. The property offered in Cloverdale is splendidly situated and certain to become very valuable in the near future. The opportunities to make money by real estate investments have not all passed, as a careful investigation of the growth of the city in the direction named will convincingly prove.

For Alaska.

The steamship Corona, Capt. Carroll, arrived from the Sound early this morning and left this afternoon for Alaska. Eighty-six tourists formed the steamship's complement of passengers. Among the distinguished lot was the Hon. John W. Foster, ex-United States minister to Russia, Spain and Mexico, accompanied by Judge Robt. Richardson of, Indiana. On arrival of the vessel the majority of the excursionists took carriages and drove around the city.

Nanaimo not Burned Down.

August the 1st has passed and still Nanaimo rears itself on the shores of the Gulf of Georgia, despite Mrs. Sampson's prediction to the contrary. It will be remembered that Mrs Sampson, who posed here as a test medium, was kind enough to foretell that the whole of the eastern portion of Commercial street, from the drehall to the Long Bridge, would be destroyed by fire yesterday. It is not probable that this prediction troubled very many of our citizens and those to whom it did cause some uneasiness would be proof against such charlatanism in the future.—Courier.

An American Citizen.

We were told yesterday that one of the aldermen in our city council is a sworn American citizen, and of course, ineligible as an alderman. If such should prove to be the case, all the acts and matters of the council in which he took part will be null and void. We need not point out how serious this will be for the council and the city generally and how necessary it will be for the whole council to resign. Messrs. Hendry and Scoullar have shown a good example which should be followed by the remainder. It would be very awkward for the present aldermen if it was shown that they were personally responsible.—Guardian.

Placer Diggings.

Geo. W. Basure, known as the "Cowboy Evangelist," came down from Yale to Westminster a few days ago. He brought with him samples of gold and plumbago ore from Siwash Creek, near Yale, and also specimens of flake gold and nuggets from the claim of the Similkameen Mining Co. The latter are placer diggings, and are proving very rich. A small phial filled with flake gold was the result of five hours work, only four men being engaged in washing it. Hydraulic machinery is being put in and big results are expected. The company has had to locate water, and can now rely upon 1,000 inches for years to come for hydraulic purposes.

Ald. McConnell's Sentence.

Ald. McConnell, chairman of the police commissioners of Vancouver city, who ran amuck through the streets of that place a few weeks ago, and narrowly escaped shooting several prominent citizens with his Winchester rifle, has been fined $50 in the police court for pointing a loaded firearm at the chief of police. On a charge of firing a loaded weapon within the city limits, contrary to by-law, he was fined $10. The News-Advertiser makes the following remarks on the case: Five dollars a shot is the tariff price at which, according to the decision of the police magistrate yesterday in the case of Ald. McConnell, an alderman may blaze away with a Winchester rifle at the police or private citizens as long as the humor pleases him or his ammunition is unexhausted. We say "an Alderman" because no one supposes that the same decision would have been rendered had the defendant been an ordinary citizen. If instead of Alderman McConnell, it had been Bill Smith, a longshoreman, or Tom Jones, a laborer, who had fired at peaceful citizens, much more at the Chief of Police, it is quite certain that the culprit would have been summarily sent to jail, without the option of bail, to await his trial at the next assizes. There is only one thing which it is to be regretted the magistrate in giving his decision did not make clear, and that is as to whether the cost of indulging in the amusement in question was lighter on account of the defendant being the chairman of the Police Commission as well as an alderman, or whether a plain alderman would get off for the same figure? This should be certainly cleared up when the next civic official is charged with threatening the lives of Her Majesty's liege s

FIRE ALARMS.

The Gamewell System to be Introduced in Victoria.

At a meeting of the Fire Wardens and Electric Light Committee, held last evening, the tender of F. C. Stover, agent of the California Electrical Works, to furnish this city with a Gamewell fire alarm system, was accepted. The system will consist of 25 fire alarm boxes throughout the city with a striker on the Tiger engine house bell, gongs and indicators in the engine houses and everything requisite to immediately locate a fire. The system is in use throughout the United States and gives entire satisfaction. The new system will be in operation on the 1st October. Mr. Stover is engaged in placing an alarm system in Vancouver.

FORESTERS FETE.

Grand Demonstration at the Caledonian Grounds.

The Foresters of Victoria will hold their picnic at the Caledonian grounds to-morrow afternoon. The brethren will assemble at their hall on Government street at 11 o'clock in the morning and will march to the E. & N. railway depot to meet the visiting lodge from Nanaimo. After receiving the visitors the court will return to their hall and will march to the picnic ground at 1 o'clock, headed by their fine band. A good programme of sports will be carried out during the afternoon and the great event of the season will take place. At 3 o'clock a marriage will take place in the centre of the large circle on the grounds. A canopy covered with flags will be erected and the ceremony will be performed by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge. A grand flower show will also be held and the prize bouquet will be handed to the bride. Archery for valuable prizes will form one of the attractions, and dancing on the spacious platform will commence at 4 o'clock. A grand Robin Hood tombola will be held during the evening, each lady on entering the grounds receiving a ticket. Two large bands will furnish music. Visiting members of the Ancient Order from the mainland courts will arrive this evening.

AROUND NANAIMO.

Events Which Excite our Friends in the Sister City.

The steamer Princess, a government boat, arrived here yesterday having on board F. C. Gamble, government engineer, who has charge of the blasting operations at Nicol Rock.

Mr. J. Edward Butler, late chief officer of the steamer Isabel, has been promoted to the position of captain of the tug Pilot. He is a most deserving officer and carries with him the best wishes of his numerous friends and acquaintances.

The steamer Belle arrived here yesterday afternoon with a boom of logs from King and Casey's logging camp. The logs are destined for Sayward's mill, Victoria, the Belle only calling here for coal.

Mr. J. H. Field decided yesterday to stay in Nanaimo in preference to accepting an offer of a position on the mainland. Mr. Field will occupy the position of night operator in this city, which post has been so ably filled by Mr. Auge, who will leave on Monday for the Nicaragua canal, where he has received an appointment.

The community has lately been disturbed in its mind over the disgusting scenes that have been enacted by men bathing in close proximity to the boat houses and wharves, but yesterday the city constable made a successful haul of these young men, raking in seven, and they have been requested to appear before the magistrates to day to answer to the charge of indecent exposure.

We are pleased to note that Mr. H. Frost, the well-known local contractor, was the fortunate tenderer for the construction of the building to be occupied by the new tannery company, to be located on Millstream, near the gas works. The building will be 60x90 feet and four storys high. Work will be commenced immediately and pushed through rapidly until the building is completed.

Up to a late hour last night the Alberni mail carrier had failed to put in a appearance owing, it is supposed to the bad state of the roads occasioned by the bush fires which are very prevalent at present. The mail carrier ought to have arrived on Wednesday afternoon and his non-appearance has caused considerable uneasiness in the city as the Alberni road is said to be in a very dangerous condition owing to burning trees falling across it. —Courier.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

Mee Wah, charged with an infraction of the health by-law, was fined $5.

A case for allowing the Scotch emblem to bloom in violation of the statutes, was dismissed on payment of costs, $2.

Joseph Carey, charged with overdriving a horse, was fined $10, half of which went to the prosecutor, Officer Chas. Miller.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Daniel McIver took place this afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Macleod officiating. The pall bearers were James Boyd, Wm. McDonald, A. Whetstone, F. Campbell, Peter Carr, Jno. Murphy.

Another Collier.

The collier San Pedro, which has been plying in the Tacoma-San Francisco coal trade for some years past, is to be withdrawn from that route, and the impression prevails in Tacoma marine circles that she is to go into the Comox coal trade, which we understand is so. The San Pedro is somewhat smaller than the San Mateo, and her usual cargo is 4000 tons.

Purely a Matter of Gall.

A friend rushed into the office in a breathless state of excitement this afternoon to enquire if there was any truth in the report that the Rush had seized the Swiftsure in Behring sea. "Tut" said the editor "they would'nt have the gall to do that." "Would'nt have the gall? Look here," said he, "those Yankees have gall enough for anything."

Funeral of the Late Premier.

The mortal remains of the late Hon. A. E. B. Davie will be consigned to their last resting place on Saturday morning. The funeral will leave the residence, Michigan street, James Bay, at 9 o'clock and the R. C. pro-Cathedral, View street, at 10 o'clock. In compliance with a request made by the late premier the funeral will be private. At the pro-Cathedral Requiem High Mass will be celebrated. A "Record Breaker."

The steamship City of Puebla is the "record breaker" of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's northern fleet. She left here last Sunday at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and arrived at San Francisco on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, making the voyage of 750 miles in 70 hours, the best time ever performed. Her previous best time was 82 hours on her previous down trip. The nearest approach to this is the Queen of the Pacific's run in 84 hours, made some years ago, which was generally considered wonderful.
